New Lamp Burns 94% Air

Beats Electric or Gas

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94% air and 6% common kerosene (coal oil).

The inventor, G. M. Johnson, 609 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

The Easiest Way To End Dandruff

There is one sure way that never fails to remove dandruff completely, and that is to dissolve it. This destroys it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and two or three more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store and four ounces is all you will need. This simple remedy has never been known to fail.

Declaring that their work had just started with the completion of the case against the governor, members of the committee said that no condition found would be "white washed."

LIST OF CHARGES

The senate court of impeachment ordered Governor Walton to trial next Thursday after the lower house yesterday had approved the last of the 22 charges which constitute the impeachment bill. These are: illegal issuance of state police commissions to numbers of irresponsible persons; censorship of press; issue

AKRON BOY, 10, HELD ON BURGLARY CHARGE

AKRON — A ten-year-old Akron school boy was under arrest today on a charge of burglary. The boy, with three other youths used regular "crook methods," officers say. While one remained on the outside as a lookout the others entered a local restaurant thru a rear window early today. When the lookout sounded the alarm, all escaped but the ten-year-old boy. He was arrested and booked on a burglary charge.

Botkin Rules Concoction Is Not Intoxicating Liquor

Conrad Fuerst, Delphos resident, arrested by state prohibition officers recently on charge of having material in his possession for the manufacture of intoxicating liquor was adjudged not guilty by Justice E. M. Botkin in a decision announced Saturday.

Fuerst maintained that he was engaged in the manufacture of vinegar, according to a receipt used by his mother for years. The dry agents asserted the concoction found in his cellar was wine.

Justice Botkin who has had the case under advisement made no attempt to decide what wine is when it's mixed.

20 Switch Engines to be Delivered in February

IMMEDIATE START PLANNED

Directors to Visit New Additions Next Week

Order for 20 six wheel switch engines from the Southern Pacific railroad was announced Saturday by L. A. Larson, vice-president and treasurer of the Lima Locomotive Works.

These locomotives are of the regular design as developed by the local concern, but will conform in certain particulars to the specifications of the railroad.

Work in preparation for the actual construction of the locomotives will be started at once, Larson said. Until various raw materials and unfinished castings are ready, however, it will not be possible to operate at full schedule on them.

FINISHED IN FEBRUARY

Completion of the order is expected sometime in February, Larson said. The orders are being completed at the Lima Works and, despite the fact that the company is

WATER CRISIS IS DENIED

Unreliable Reports Condemned by City Officials

73 DAYS SUPPLY IS ON HAND

Reservoir Capacity Precludes all Danger of Famine

Lima has sufficient water to last 73 days or until Jan. 7, 1924, if there is not a drop of rain or a bit of snow between now and that date, according to figures submitted to City Manager C. A. Bingham by George Kirk, pumping superintendent.

This is the situation, as a matter of cold, hard fact, despite the wild claims of another afternoon paper that the city water supply is "barely sufficient for six weeks." Two of the three sets of figures given by that paper are entirely wrong, officials pointed out Saturday, so its conclusion as to the supply is wrong.

The real, honest, water supply figures at the close of business Friday afternoon were given officially as:

ACTUAL SUPPLY
 Lima Lake—159,000,000 gallons
 Lost Creek—15,000,000 gallons
 Twin Lakes—104,000,000 gallons

ASSAILANTS FLEE IN DARKNESS

Company Officials Claim Shot is Fired From Automobile

MAY HAVE USED TORPEDO

Chief Lanker Scouts Belief That Gun Was Used

Street car No. 69 of the Lima Street Railway Co. was struck by a bullet while traveling along S. Cole-st shortly after 9 p. m. Friday when some men in a passing automobile fired two revolver shots directly at it. The bullet struck the car near the wheels leaving a trace of its mark.

Motorman K. C. Campbell, who was in charge of the car at the time, said he was proceeding along S. Cole-st when a touring car traveling in the same direction drove up along and one of the three men occupants fired point blank at the car.

AUTO ESCAPES

The automobile then sped on and vanished in the distance.

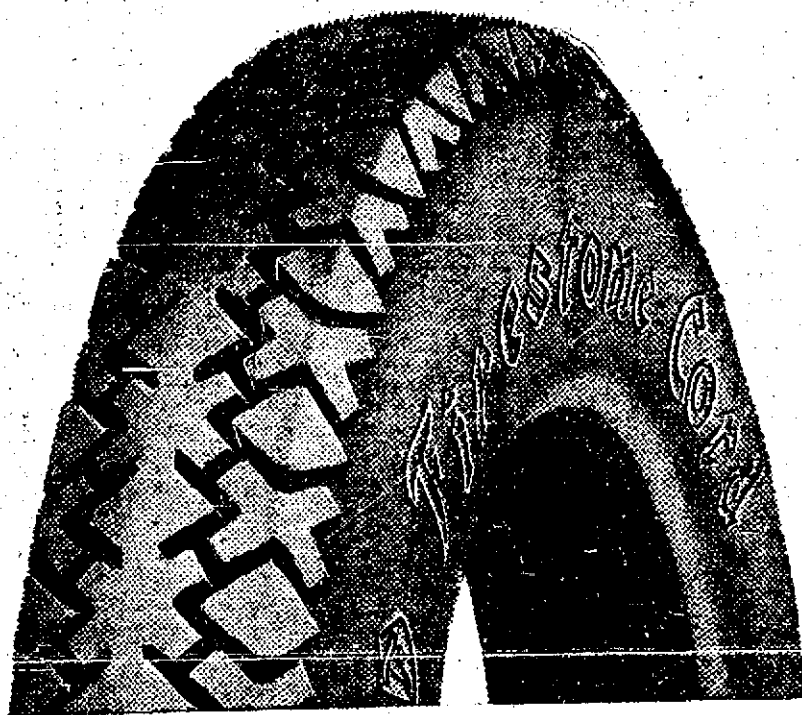

In a report made to F. C. Bundy, Motorman Campbell asserted he identified one of the men as former employee of the street railway company.

Motorman Campbell, on his return to the public square, reported the matter to Police Officer Hamilton, who made a report at police headquarters. Chief Lanker Saturday morning declared he had no information as to who the men were who were riding in the automobile from which the shots were fired. Police believe a torpedo was thrown.

"MOST MILES PER DOLLAR"

Price Is Important But VALUE BUILDS VOLUME

The real business men in tire buying today realize that while price is an important factor there must be full dollar-for-dollar value behind it.

Bear in mind that the car owner who buys today eventually decides for himself what kind of a tire was sold him—by the mileage he received for his money.

On the result of his findings will hinge his future tire purchases—and whether or not he will continue to buy the same tire.

Because of the costly experience of thousands of "price buyers" with unknown brands, the buying trend today is definitely toward the reputable line of tires, whose quality and mileage is known to the public.

That is why Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords are today the back bone of volume for thousands of car owners.

Get tires that offer you genuine quality at the RIGHT price. Firestone customers are permanent the world over.

DEATH LIST IN GERMAN RIOTING GROW

SEVEN KILLED IN LATEST BATTLE

Bloody Fighting Thruout Ruhr Valley is in Progress

NEW PEACE PLAN MAY FAIL

Gulf Separates France, Britain in Reparations Scheme

BERLIN—(United Press)—Widespread and bloody rioting thruout the Ruhr was reported today as government officials waited for additional information on the peace move started in London and Washington for settlement of the reparations question.

Barmen dispatches said seven persons were killed and 40 wounded in scattered fighting in the occupied zone.

Communists, engineering demonstrations of unemployed started the rioting.

German police were regaining control today, late dispatches said, although clashes continued in many districts.

WORKERS BARRICADED

DUESSELDORF—(United Press)—Armed workers still are barricaded in the Krupp factory at Essen, following a night of rioting in which many persons were wounded, according to messages here today.

The rioting started after arrival of Krupp Von Bohlen from the Duesseldorf jail yesterday and was engineered by communists.

Von Bohlen, serving a sentence for alleged sabotage against the Franco-Belgian occupation, was paroled from the jail here to go to Essen to aid in solving the grave unemployment situation there.

PEACE PLAN MAY FAIL

PARIS—(United Press)—The gulf separating the Franco-British viewpoints regarding German reparations payments is much deeper than is generally supposed, according to indications in official circles here today.

Premier Poincare does not consider his conditional acceptance of the Anglo-American proposals for a commission of experts to examine Germany's capacity to pay as in any way constituting a deviation from his original viewpoint.

As stated in United Press dispatches yesterday France insists that the reparations commission, which she controls, still must remain the final authority on how much Germany can pay.

VIEWS UNCHANGED

France welcomes American co-operation in settling the reparations problem, officials said, but indicated at the same time that this government has no intention of abandoning its previously expressed viewpoint, namely that no reduction in the amount of reparations due from Germany can be considered at this time and that the questions of allied debts and reparations are closely related.

Comment in the morning press today on the Curzon note and Secretary Hughes' reply and the speech of Prime Minister Baldwin at Plymouth, stressed an apparent Anglo-American understanding against France.

Britain and Germany, the newspapers charged, were attempting to bring America into the reparations squabble on their side.

"France does not oppose American entry into settlements," the Journal said, "but she feels that Germany first must recommend execution of the treaty of Versailles."

The Journal's editorial, organ of the financial interests, said:

"Nobody denies the honesty of Premier Baldwin and nobody in France desires to increase the abyss between this country and England."

"However, we cannot consent for the mere pleasure of an entente, to start on a road leading nowhere."

"England must first recognize her error and make amends."

The text of the French memorandum on the Curzon note and Secretary Hughes' reply had not yet been made public here, but it was considered the document would not constitute a surrender by Premier Poincare on his expressed viewpoint on the reparations question.

Poincare merely has agreed, so far, that the reparations commission, which England has repeatedly declared is a mere tool of France, shall appoint a commission of experts on which the United States will be represented, to act as an advisory body on questions concerning Germany's capacity to pay.

The reparations commission will not be bound in any way to accept the recommendations of the experts.

The premier also has agreed to appear before the reparations commission of German representatives, who will attempt to explain why their government cannot carry out the deliveries of materials and merchandise provided by the peace treaty and covering documents.

EX-KAISER ACTIVE

ROORN, Holland—(Associated Press)—Former Emperor William and Ex-Crown Prince Frederick Wilhelm accompanied by two other persons, left the ex-kaiser's home here at six o'clock last evening in an automobile in the direction of Aachen, about ten miles from the German border and returned at 2 o'clock this morning.

They were followed by three other automobiles, according to a person well informed regarding affairs at the chateau. It is reported here that the ex-kaiser prince wishes to return to Germany at any cost and that he has had conversations with this subject with representatives of the Dutch government.

SEPARATIST GAINS

DUREN—(Associated Press)—The separatists in the North Rhine-land say that they have successfully established their positions at Aix La Chapelle, Crefeld, Bonn and other points. It now is possible, the leaders assert, to extend the Republican lines whenever such operations are deemed opportune.

The separatists especially claim progress at Coblenz.

The military leaders talk openly of plans to storm the town halls at Neuss, Gladbach and other places including Duesseldorf. They predict that the Republican colors will be hoisted over the Rathaus at Duisburg today.

In Duren, which is in the French zone the separatists have "dug in" so thoroughly that their leaders believe all danger of a reactionary movement is passed. It is contended that the same situation is true at Aix La Chapelle and Crefeld.

One of the setbacks encountered by the Republicans was the capture by the Neuss police of their military commander-in-chief, Herr Leitner, who was taken as he was passing the edge of the town. The Republicans threaten to capture Neuss and reason him.

Neuss is regarded as a "stepping stone" to Duesseldorf which the separatists hope to take because of its importance industrially and the fact that it is the headquarters of General Degoutte and the Ruhr operation.

REPUBLICAN MACHINERY

COBLENZ—(Associated Press)—The Rhineland republic, made stronger by the approval of the Franco-Belgian authorities, is devoting its energies to extension and organization.

The provisional government at Coblenz has set up a ministry of which Joseph Matthes is premier, altho he pretends to be called "executive commissioner."

The Republican leaders are hoping that the allies will consent to transform their first mortgage on the railways under the Versailles treaty into a second mortgage in consideration of the sum of 350,000,000 gold francs.

The people in the towns where Republicans are installed appear to have accepted the situation now that the French and Belgians have made clear that they will not countenance attempts to expel the separatists. Disturbances are therefore fewer in number.

Several more towns of secondary importance are reported to have been occupied.

WASHINGTON VIEWS

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—Hopeful that indicated acceptance by France, Italy and Belgium of British proposals for an advisory study by an international commission of experts of Germany's capacity to pay had definitely opened a way toward solution of the reparations tangle, Washington officials today awaited the further formulation of plans presumably under way at the European capitals.

Developments of the last 24 hours were said authoritatively to have been such as to make it appear a virtual certainty that America would be represented on the proposed commission by experts named with the approval of the Washington government.

The plan which the French government would accept at least appears to offer no obstacle to American participation so far as the American government's position was stated by Secretary Hughes in his reply to Lord Curzon's communication of October 13. While the United States, he said, could not participate officially in the activities of the reparations commission, he had "no doubt" the secretary added, that competent American citizens would accept membership on an advisory body appointed by the commission to make recommendations.

GERMAN POET LOSES HOME ON NEW ITALIAN TERRITORY

BERLIN—Ludwig Fulda, the German poet and dramatist, built himself a little chalet fifteen years ago in the Tyrolean Alps, at Carezza, near Bozen. When the Italian government took over that part of Austria the assessors placed a valuation of 45,000 lira on Fulda's property and advised him that he would be allowed to retain the place and continue his literary work in peace.

But the poet was recently advised that the Italian state will expropriate his home as the Italian officials now say all of his furnishings and belongings, together with the house, are worth more than 50,000 lira, and that no German is allowed to retain property which exceeds that figure in value. Fulda was expelled from his home and not even permitted to remove his personal belongings.

While Fulda has written many plays and novels, he is known chiefly for his rendition of Shakespeare's sonnets into German with such skill that they became as popular with Germans as the Shakespearean plays are.

VIENNA—(Associated Press)—The mental and physical make-up of that world-wide class of minor criminals, the pickpocket, has been set forth with convincing accuracy by the one man in Europe doubtless best qualified to do so. Dr. E. Lewisch, for 18 years chief of the pickpocket sect of the Vienna police.

The chief was addressing the delegates to the international police congress. The pickpocket, he said, was essentially a nomad, a rover. He finds his prey on the street, in places of amusement, when an accident draws people together, in the cloak-room of a theatre, in short, wherever there is a crowd. He may operate in Vienna today, and tomorrow he is loitering about a city a hundred miles away. He must be ready to keep moving and give up any idea of a settled home. In Europe he must be a good linguist.

It is reasonably certain, Dr. Lewisch said, that these men are systematically trained in their work, and he believed the best schools are in Poland and Hungary. Besides strength and dexterity the pickpocket must have presence of mind, knowledge of men, and a ready adaptability to cope with unexpected and dangerous situations. Unbounded effrontery, self-confidence, and a ready eloquence are important assets, and often help him to calm the agitation of his victim, avert suspicion, and even win the confidence and gratitude of the man he is robbing.

WELL FORMED HANDS

The successful pickpocket needs well formed hands, long and with long, narrow fingers. He must be able to seize a heavy purse with two fingers as with a pair of pincers, and extract it from a pocket by a quick and sure movement, or twist a watch ring out of its bearings with as easy a grace as if picking a flower from its stem.

In court the pickpocket denies passionately every charge brought against him. He admits absolutely nothing. He has a ready excuse to account for his presence in the city where he was caught. The stolen watch he will swear he picked up from the ground, and as an honest finder he was about to carry it to the police station. Before the judge he will simulate deafness or ignorance of the language of the court. He will fight for time by asking questions on his own account, or pretend sickness or even insanity.

It takes time to build a good case against a pickpocket, Dr. Lewisch declared. He must be held while his record, often in other countries, is being looked up. He must be fingerprinted and photographed, and the evidence distributed to the police authorities all over Europe. And when he is found guilty, Dr. Lewisch concluded, give him a long sentence, preferably in the penitentiary.

"RED" DOCTRINES GIVEN WALLOP

Peter W. Collins Speaks at K. of C. Meeting in Lima

PLEA FOR HARMONY MADE

Work in Cooperation and Ban "Isms," 1,500 Are Told

Taking direct issue against "Red" doctrines, and the work of the professional agitator who is stirring up strife in America, Peter W. Collins in an address before 1,500 people at Memorial Hall Friday night, advocated greater harmony between all classes.

"Not one of the so-called leaders of the various labor organizations advocating communistic principles has come from the laboring classes," he asserted in making a plea for higher type leadership and the destruction of the various "isms" that are infesting the country.

Harmony is needed between capital and labor, political parties, religious creeds and between nations, Collins said. "Harmony is the panacea for the troubles affecting the world today," he declared in advocating greater cooperation between all persons for the settlement of trouble.

Collins is a forceful speaker and is known from Boston, his home, to San Francisco for the manner in which he has been fighting bolshevism in its various forms. Experiences as an international trades union official makes it possible for him to speak with conviction regarding socialism and similar doctrines.

ANSWERS QUESTIONS

Following his address the meeting was thrown open for questions. A large number took advantage of the opportunity and asked questions regarding the work of radical leaders in this country. Collins is at his best in clearing up difficulties in the minds of people in his audience by answering their questions.

In a short speech of introduction James J. Weadock, chairman representing the Knights of Columbus, under whose auspices the meeting was held, stressed the need of full understanding of the principles of Americanism.

The meeting opened with singing of "America" by the audience and Dale Marshall, tenor gave several selections. A musical prelude was given by the eight-piece orchestra from St. John's church.

Collins is scheduled to deliver an address similar to that given here, in Delphos Sunday night. He is making a tour thru Ohio at the present time under the auspices of the K. of C. supreme board of directors.

Officials of the local K. of C. fraternity are planning a number of public meetings during the winter. Various phases of community and national life will be discussed by speakers of national prominence, it is said.

The defendant, according to the petition, frequently asserted that she married the plaintiff, not for love but to have him take care of her. NEW YORK—(Associated Press) Mrs. Edmond Croker, widow of Richard Croker, former Tammany leader, has offered the entire estate of her husband, and her services to the organization. The estate is said to be worth more than $1,000,000. Mrs. Croker went to Tammany Hall and made the offer to Charles F. Murphy, present chief, saying she was following the wishes expressed by her husband a few hours before his death in Dublin in April, 1922. "The spirit of my husband went with me to Tammany Hall," she said. "He sat at my side as I offered whatever I have to the cause he loved. I hesitate to talk about it because people think me fanatical. What I have was Richard Croker's; what he had was at the command of his friends. I have taken what he left me to his friends. I ask nothing in return."

She said her husband declared: "Bella, all that I am, all that I have, I owe to the boys at Tammany Hall. They made me. I was their's and what I have is their's. Tell them that."
Mrs. Croker said she and Murphy reached no definite decision. The Tammany leader invited her to an organization dinner Sunday night and she told him she would be proud to attend.

Over 500 Masons attended the joint reunion of Lima Lodge No. 205, and Garrett Wyckoff lodge No. 585, F. & A. M. held in the Masonic temple Friday afternoon and evening.

Lodge sessions began at 4 p. m. and at 6 p. m. a banquet was served in the dining hall. Music was furnished by an orchestra.
Rev. Carl A. Stein, pastor of First Reformed church, Toledo, gave an address following the banquet. Rev. Stein during his remarks, declared their were two philosophies in life. The philosophy of attitude of self, and the philosophy of selfishness. The person who lives for self asks himself what he can get out of the world, holding the contention that the world owes him a living and a good time. The unselfish person is always striving to put something into the world that will make it and his fellow men better.
Rev. Stein based his talk on the words: Know thyself and have charity, laugh heartily, suffer patiently, pray earnestly, labor joyously and love.

VAN BUREN-TP FARMER GIVES FIGURES ON USE FERTILIZER FOR WHEAT
LEIPSIC—Charles Schroeder, of Van Buren-tp, is a firm believer in the use of fertilizer for improvement and fertility of land.
Schroeder, who last season had a demonstration field, noted figures in connection with his experiment. Wheat on his demonstration field, sown about the middle of last October, yielded at harvest an average of 25 bushels to the acre in a field of 15 acres.
"Seven years ago," declared Schroeder, "it took seventeen acres of land to fill a silo and this year two silos of the same size as the one used seven years ago were filled from only eight acres."
These were actual results, according to W. H. Hancock, Putnam-co agricultural agent, on a Putnam-co farm which was improved according to the farm bureau's campaign for the use of proper fertilizers.
Schroeder's success may be realized by any farmer, Hancock says, and his experiments will carry much weight in furthering the work with other farmers in the county.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE
DEAR MISS SMART:
WE ARE two girls eighteen years old, are we too young to keep steady company?
What time should we be home from a Halloween party?
One of us is four feet, eleven inches high and the other is five feet, three inches high. How much should we weigh? How long should we wear our dresses?
It is all right for us to go machine riding at night with a young man? If so, what time should we be in?
What is the Mary Thurston's bobbed hair style?
What would be some cute twin names for boys or girls?
When coming home late from a show or dance, should a girl offer her friend refreshments? If so, what would be nice in the winter?
Hoping you will publish this soon, we are,

GIVEN JAIL TERM, $1,200 FINE
Moonshine Maker Sentenced in Federal Court
Herman T. Horstman, 65, near Cloverdale, fined $1,000 and costs July 25 before Judge E. R. Eastman of Putnam-co for violation of liquor laws now has been sentenced to six months in Dayton workhouse and must pay a fine of $1,200 as the result of conviction in federal court at Toledo on charges growing out of the same case.
Horstman was arrested July 24 and was charged with having property designed for manufacture of intoxicating liquor and with unlawful possession of intoxicating liquor.
Two stills, 350 gallons of mash, several gallons of moonshine liquor, a gasoline stove, ten gallons of syrup and 450 pounds of sugar were confiscated as result of a raid on a barn on Horstman's place. The stuff was found in an inner compartment hidden by a stack of straw removed by inquisitive prohibition officers.

ROAD REPORT IS BRANDED FALSE
Herrick Replies to Charge of Faulty Materials
COLUMBUS—(Associated Press)—Former State Highway Director Leon C. Herrick in a statement here today declared that "newspaper statements" to the effect that Highway Director Boulay has halted work on the Athens-Pomeroy highway because of faulty materials being used "is a deliberate misrepresentation of facts."
Herrick asserted that "no sandstone base has been placed on this job whatsoever."
"In the matter of the construction of two miles of this highway built last year at the time I was director of highways," Herrick continued, "Director Boulay says that he has heard gossip to the effect that no tests were made of the base for fear they could not meet specifications. This disagreeable comment is followed up by the statement that the department 'is said to be' in doubt as to the worth of the improvement. It is further stated that this improvement has not been made because of faulty construction."
"In answer to this deliberate misrepresentation of facts, I wish to state that this road is and has been open to traffic and was constructed with local sandstone exactly as originally planned."
Herrick said $15,000 was saved by the use of local sandstone.

CHEAP FUEL

EDISON backs Steinmetz in predicting that we are close to the day when coal—instead of being shipped to consumers at great transportation cost and effort—will be converted into electricity at the mines.

The coal would run big engines, which in turn would operate generators of current to be sent over high-tension wires to a country on an electrical basis.

That would make life easier—simply turning the switch for cooking and heating. Not so easy, really to get such a system into operation at a price that would put the coal dealer out of business.

A different solution of the coal problem was predicted recently by Floyd W. Parsons, making a speech to gas manufacturers. Parsons thinks this: Eventually every ton of coal mined in the United States will have all heat units converted into gas, which will be distributed thru pipes to homes, mills and factories.

We may pass thru a Gas Age before we reach the Electric Age. Already there are more than nine million gas meters in America. In the last 12 months, gas companies added 400,000 customers to their books.

There is difference of opinion, as to whether coal at the mines should be converted into gas or electricity. But it's almost unanimously agreed by economists and other experts, that shipment of coal to consumers is too costly. A startling change is coming here. Our generation may live to see it.

YOUR TIME

DOCTORS notice a steady increase in the number of men who break down between 40 and 50, when they should be in their prime. Breakdown comes three ways—physically, mentally or in the ability to forge ahead and reap the harvest of past effort.

Why do so many men break down prematurely? The answer is partly that civilization is constantly becoming more complex with each year bringing more and more demands on the individual's spare time.

Each year it becomes harder for a man to earn a good living for himself and family. He goes thru his work-day at high nervous tension, speeded up, giving his last ounce of strength. This is particularly true of men who work with their brains.

Father goes home at night, fagged out. What he needs, to keep him fit and help nature recuperate his exhausted cells, is complete relaxation with plenty of fresh air and little noise.

But so-called "social duties" crowd in. Father finds he is expected to dress up and go calling on friends. Or maybe it's to a movie. Or to a lodge. Or to a meeting of some committee on which he is serving as Fifth Assistant Deputy Peanut Inspector. And so on.

Before he realizes, it's around midnight when he yawns into bed, exhausted, with an hour or two less for sleep than he should have. A man can stand this for a while. But in a matter of years even a strong constitution begins cracking under the strain.

Too many social duties. Too much gadding about. Too little leisure time devoted to relaxation and rest. The candle has been kept burning at both ends. Father weakens, falters, fags out prematurely.

PLANNING FOR THE FUTURE

NEW YORK CITY is doing its city-planning for the future on the basis that it and its suburbs will have nearly 29 million people in the year 2000. Which is only 77 years away. Population is expected to pass 11 millions before 1940.

Quite an interesting prospect for the farmers, who'll have to feed this mob.

But the best laid schemes of mice and men, etc. Airplanes may break up New York and all other big cities long before year 2000, enabling workers to live far out in the country, with cities reduced to centers of manufacturing, shopping and recreation.

A HINT TO EMPLOYERS

PATRIOTS, 40,000 of them, climbed to the top of Bunker Hill Monuments in the last 12 months. The trip is 294 steps each way, but tourists don't seem to mind that. No amount of effort, however great, is really "work" when we're on a holiday, out for a good time.

We'd like to read the mind of one of these climbers if sent up 294 steps on a business errand.

A hint here for employers. Make work attractive, and get better results. Salesmen usually are enthusiastic and full of pep, largely because their work has the appearance of a game or contest rather than toil.

Fishing is fun—but not to the man who has to.

Are you feeling blue? This may cheer you a little. Fifteen landlords were fined in New York.

Film attire, as you may have noticed, is filmy attire.

BRYAN'S WEEKLY BIBLE TALK

"World-Wide Prohibition"

Text of Today's Bible Talks by Mr. Bryan

(Proverbs 23: 29-35)

Who hath we? who hath sorrow? who hath contentions? who hath babbling? who hath wounds without cause? who hath redness of eyes?

They that tarry long at the wine; they that go to seek mixed wine. Look not thou upon the wine when it is red, when it giveth his colour in the cup, when it moveth itself aright.

At the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder. Thine eyes shall behold strange women, and thine heart shall utter perverse things.

Yea, thou shalt be as he that lieth down in the midst of the sea, or as he that lieth down upon the top of a mast.

They have stricken me, shalt thou say, and I was not sick; they have beaten me, and I felt it not: when shall I awake? I will seek it yet again.

By WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN

We deal today with world-wide prohibition—the subject chosen for the observance of World's Temperance Sunday.

Alcohol has been the curse of man as far back as history records his doings. In Bible history we have a record of the drunkenness of Noah. He drank the wine from his own vineyard and it had the same effect then that it has now.

His sons, in mortification, took a garment and, walking backward that they might not see their father's nakedness, spread it over him as he lay drunk in his tent.

From that day down to this there has not been a generation that has not suffered from the evil effects of alcohol.

Profane history tells the same story; Achilles, in his famous quarrel with Agamemnon, called the latter a "wine-bibber"—a word that was even then a term of reproach.

SOLOMON'S WARNING

In the Proverbs of Solomon we find a description of the effects of alcohol; they are as clearly described as if the account was written yesterday.

Our text for this talk gives a catalog of the consequences of drink. It numbs the mental faculties, confuses the thought and leads the reason astray. It overthrows the will, blunts the moral sense, and obliterates the line between right and wrong.

God has never made a human being strong enough to begin the use of alcohol and be sure that he would not become its slave; and God has never fixed a day in the life of man after which it is safe to begin.

Solomon also calls attention to the quarrelsome tendencies of drink. It stirs up contentions, breeds disputes and results in wounds that are causeless.

The Wise Man, basing his advice upon these well known and admitted effects of drink, warns us not to look upon the wine (revised version) "When it is red, when it sparkles in the cup, when it goeth down smoothly; at the last it biteth like a serpent, and stingeth like an adder."

THE HARM IN "MODERATION"

While through the ages the effect of excessive use of alcohol has been known to everybody, it remained for scientific investigation to disclose that even the so-called moderate use of alcoholic beverages is harmful.

A single instance makes no such impression as that made by an accumulation of instances. The statistician is, therefore, the forerunner of reform. He collects the evidence and establishes a rule.

Statistics show, for instance, that in all lands the number of accidents in industry are greatest on the day following a holiday. Statistics show that in typesetting, target practice, or any other work requiring accuracy, the effect of even a slight amount of alcohol can be detected by the largest number of mistakes made.

Statistics also show that the ability of a patient to safely pass the crisis in a disease is lessened by the habitual use of even small quantities of alcohol. Probably the most persuasive fact was obtained from insurance tables, which conclusively prove that even moderate drinking reduces one's expectancy and very perceptibly shortens the average life of the drinker.

THE MOST FRIGHTFUL WARNING

But the most frightful warning was furnished by the study of eugenics. It was found that alcohol travels in the blood and cures, even before their birth, the children of drinking parents.

It must be a very hard-hearted father or mother who can be indifferent to the effect of intemperance upon their own flesh and blood—and intemperance grows upon one so naturally and so gradually that no one can afford to risk the taking of a first drink.

While it is not possible to apportion the credit due to the various organizations that co-operated in the securing of prohibition, no one will be offended if special praise is given to the noble women who, banded together under the name of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, brought to the students of schools a knowledge of the effect of alcohol on the system and spread before the pupils the results of scientific research on this subject.

It is not strange that the conscience of America finally arose and drove the drinking place out from under our flag. The strange thing is that the final fight should have been delayed so long and that other and older nations did not take the same action centuries ago.

THE PRIMARY CAUSE FOR PROHIBITION

Possibly, we may be indebted largely to our free institutions. The doctrine of local self-government has given to the voters not only the power to legislate, but a sense of responsibility for the existence of evils when they have in their hands a remedy.

I am inclined to think that this sense of responsibility, gradually awakened, is the primary cause of national prohibition, also many causes have contributed.

For years many who would not think of owning stock in a saloon or of having a part in the manufacture of the liquor sold, voted for the licensing of the saloon, and yet the license granted by the voters was just as necessary to the saloon as the capital, the liquor sold, or the bartender who served it over the counter. This fact—always a fact—grew clearer with the discussion of the subject until one voter after another determined to withdraw from partnership in such an institution.

THREE THINGS TO DO

Prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor as a beverage, being now embodied in the Constitution and signed by statute, there remains in this country only the work of enforcement and this may be considered under three heads.

First: The entrusting of enforcement to those who do not only believe in the law but do not themselves use intoxicating liquor.

No man can be a faithful and efficient enforcement officer if he has to listen to a continuous joint debate between his appetite and his oath of office. In this connection it may be added that fines are not sufficient; imprisonment must follow the violation of this law as it does the violation of other laws, if the law is to be respected.

Second: The smuggling of liquor must be stopped. Each nation is sovereign in its own territory; no one can dispute its right to enforce its laws and no measures can be considered too severe if they are necessary to prevent the importation of that which is prohibited.

AN ESSENTIAL SENTIMENT

Third: The cultivation of a total abstinence sentiment is essential if prohibition is to remain the permanent policy of this country.

Each generation must be taught the evils of intemperance. All legislation against the liquor traffic rests upon the fact that alcoholic beverages are not only unnecessary but harmful. Any reason that would justify their use would also justify their sale—total abstinence, therefore, is logically necessary if prohibition is justified.

Churches and schools should be committed to total abstinence, pledge signing will do more than anything else to convince the wets that there will be no turning back.

We may assume it as certain that prohibition will neither be abandoned nor weakened in the United States and that the energies which have been employed in the securing of prohibition can, as enforcement becomes increasingly effective, be employed in aiding the cause abroad.

IN OTHER LANDS

The effect of our nation's leadership is already apparent in the progress made by prohibition in other lands. It has, in recent months, come within a narrow margin of winning in both New Zealand and Sweden.

Under local option laws many communities in Scotland have banished the drinking place. In England the hours of the open saloon are being shortened and Parliament has recently taken a long step in advance by passing by a pronounced majority, Lady Astor's bill prohibiting the sale of liquor to minors under the age of eighteen.

The demand for wine has been so greatly decreased that a society has recently been organized in France for opposing prohibition and advertising the merits of wine as a drink—a confession that the world-wide crusade against intoxicants is making progress. Prohibition sentiment is also making progress thru-out Latin America.

In other nations, as is our own country, different lines of argument will have weight with different classes. Business men are finding, as one Englishman expressed it, that "drunken Europe cannot compete with sober America."

A SOBER CITIZENSHIP

NECESSARY

Educators are learning that money wasted on drink can be better employed in raising educational standards and in extending the opportunities offered by the schools. Politicians are learning that with the spread of democracy a sober citizenship is more imperatively needed. And Christians in other lands are learning that it is the height of inconsistency to pray "Thy kingdom come," and then spend upon intoxicants money that should be used to hasten the coming of God's kingdom on earth.

The United States has done many things to entitle her to the gratitude of the world. Her greatest service thus far has been her contribution to the cause of universal peace. Scarcely less valuable will be the service that she will render as leader in the great moral movement that has for its purpose the abolishing of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating beverages thruout the world. # What "Close to Lima" Buyers mean—to your Business Development

When the old store outgrows itself, that's a real tribute to far-sighted merchants and sound merchandising. When new floors rise above the ground floor that means business is good and getting better.

Lima's stores are growing.

In these stores—in every Lima store, there is a man who is looking ahead. President, proprietor or merchandise manager, it's his job to know how fast the store can safely grow and where this growth must be found.

Is your future business growth to come from Lima? Partly, but not from Lima alone.

It's coming from thousands of "Close to Lima" buyers who live in more than fifty adjoining towns in this rich Northwestern Ohio market of The Lima News.

These people know and buy good merchandise. Some drive in from Delphos in forty minutes.

That's close. And Delphos has 5,000 good people who buy good clothes, shoes, furniture and other fine things that make happy homes. More than sixty per cent of Delphos population is over twenty-one years of age and almost equally divided between men and women.

How and where do these people shop? 1100 copies of The Lima News go into Delphos and vicinity daily. There's a good business hint in this statement.

These are the buyers who are helping Lima merchants grow. They will be a big factor in your future business growth. Cultivate them.

And remember that you cover like a blanket the every-day buyers of Lima, Ottawa, Spencerville, Wapakoneta, Bluffton, Cridersville, Elida, St. Marys, Lafayette and Allen and adjoining counties at the same time.

Reach them economically and surely only thru The Lima News.

The Lima News advertising rates are the same today as they have been since May, 1920, while our circulation has steadily gained during these past three and a half years.

As A Matter of Fact

BY HARRY BRADBURY
Sports Editor.

It seems that in the immediate past moving pictures have been gradually inchoating on sports of different kinds. Just lately there was exhibited at the Quilna theatre a picture of a noted movie star in a full length picture in which he boxed with no less than nine boxers who are well known to the ring. In this instance the trouble, so far as publicity was concerned was that these same boxers were not mentioned under their proper names but in fictitious terms. The thought to be conveyed is that in time this feature may be brought to the attraction of the sporting world. If it does the untold thousands of devotees of boxing through the whole of America will be benefited in so far as seeing good reproductions of the work of the most prominent boxers. That the public want just such a thing is borne out by the fact that a series of boxing pictures which picture houses have been exhibiting have shown to a profit and entire

THE LAW SEEMS UNJUST

It is said that the law making it a misdemeanor to transport pictures of boxing exhibitions, or prize fights or whatever else they are called, from one state into another, was instigated after the Jim Jeffries-Jack Johnson fight, for the reason that they were repulsive in the extreme and were degrading because of the white and black race indulging in a fight to a finish. Perhaps in this particular instance they were, and perhaps moral influence would have been setting a bad precedent, but because of this one particular instance being brought as sufficient evidence to be set up as enough to condemn the practice, is splitting hairs to the stenth degree. A good

MAJORITY OF PEOPLE WANT THEM

If those who are averse to boxing, which they have a perfect right to be if they so choose, will look at the matter with an unbiased eye, it will not be denied that eight out of ten men are not. Then from this standpoint, if we are to stick to the theory on which all laws are based, that the majority rule, why take a selfish view of the matter? There are far more vicious pictures shown to movie fans than a boxing match, and theatricals in popular favor that go farther towards degrading the higher principles of society, than two strong fellows pummeling each other. Why discriminate against the picture and not the boxer; if one is permissible surely the other is. So long as baseball or athletic both boys. The decision was given to Ferris.

There was a great amount of speculation regarding the bout between Martie Horvath, of Mansfield, and Perry McPherson, of Lima. It was interesting, especially to those competent to judge the ability of a boxer, from the standpoint that Horvath makes promise of becoming one of the factors of the featherweight division of the country. If properly handled Friday night counted his sixteenth match and also his sixteenth straight knockout.

The most remarkable part of this record is that he has finished his opponents each succeeding time in less than four rounds.

HIS BATTLE WITH McPHERSON
In his battle against McPherson, he began the same rushing tactics. Never letting up for a single minute. That he can hit hard is proven from the fact that he floored McPherson no less than three times before the referee counted the fatal ten. All this in two minutes and 34 seconds. The Lima boy was wholly out-matched. It will be well to follow the history of this young and promising boxer. It would seem that he has a successful future ahead of him.

So far as his style is concerned, it is perhaps proper to state that he is following the tactics of Dempsey and that class of boxers who depend on the hammer and lunge style. While there was little chance to judge definitely, I do not believe that he would be very clever at the defensive; if this is a fact, when the time comes that he is in front of a really clever boxer, strong on both offense and defense, he will find himself in a peck of trouble. As a matter of fact this is the weakness of so many promising boxers; their whole object is to win at all costs, and as possible, which is a good principle, but there is another which is to be able to avoid punishment when opportunity makes this necessary. Dempsey's style of boxing is not a good style for a young boxer to begin. All battles that depend altogether on being able to hit hard, never last long.

The star bout of the evening was between Jack Gross, of Lima, and Pete Myers, of Mansfield. The bout lasted four rounds. It was very interesting while it lasted, but from the very first Gross showed superiority over Myers every minute they were boxing. In the first round Myers opened with a left to wind; Gross missed a hard right to body. This was noticeable thruout the short battle, for he missed many straight right punches. At the termination of the round Gross hit Myers a hard blow on the back of the neck, which was probably the particular damage done, and the starter towards his defeat.

In the second round Myers fought hard; at the beginning there was fast exchanges of rights and lefts by both boys. Gross missed a half doz-

Central High Plays Ada On College Grounds As South Battles Cleveland

Both Lima high school grid elevens will meet two of the toughest teams on their 1923 football schedule this afternoon. South, which is far from its home soil, will take the field at Cleveland against the strong Cleveland Heights Hi team. Central will battle Ada Hi at College Field.

Coach Burdette has shifted his South lineup considerably because of injuries. Captain Barrington, who for two seasons has held down left end, has forsaken that position for one of the halves. He has been replaced by Biederman, who, altho playing his first year of football has been making fine showing on the second squad. Throckmorton, Thomas, Early and Rutledge are all suffering from injuries, but it is believed all will play with the exception of Rutledge. He has been unusually unfortunate this season in getting hurt in every game. Knight, who has been playing one of the guards, was left behind with an injury to his ear. He may be out of the game for the rest of the season.

The Heights team is also in the same hard luck. Their captain and halfback, Gordon, has been ruled ineligible in his studies and his services will be lost to the team. Several other members are on the injured list and will not be in a position to play. But Heights, strengthened by the fact that they are playing on their own field and also goaded on with the thought of the 7-6 defeat they were handed here last year, will take the field with revenge in their hearts and will do their best to turn the tables on the Blue and Gold.

Central Hi will be up against a hard proposition in the contest with Ada. Altho Ada lost all her last year's stars thru graduation, the team this year has made up for that loss with an added speed. The out-of-town school has developed a feared passing system and will probably use it to advantage this afternoon. They are exceptionally confident of a win over the Red and Green as they have always been a linx for the Centralites. Twice in basketball last year they nosed out victorious with a margin of one point.

The uptown school will put its regular team on the field with the exception of Cohn, who is out thru an injury. As Central this year has specialized in speed the game will be one of the fastest seen here for some time. The answer to the question, Which is the speedier? will be the winner of the game.

The Central-Ada clash will begin at 2:30 o'clock.

Cobb Supreme Swatter Of All Time

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press) — Ty Cobb, fiery pilot of the Detroit Tigers, has added new glory to his all-time batting record, marking almost lost sight of in the closing battles of the season and the smoke of world's series conflict. With the end of the 1923 campaign, Cobb ended his eighteenth consecutive season above the .300 batting average and came into possession of the all-time record which he had shared for a season with Hans Wagner, famous old shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Wagner set the mark at 17 years and when he retired it was the opinion of many that that was one mark that would stand to the credit of Wagner for all time.

DELPHOS PLAYS LIMA

Delphos plays Lima Sunday. Delphos will come here, in that they will have in the points Uble and O'Neary of the Cleveland Indians. It should be more like a game than one of the usual sort. Wapak and New B suffered at the hands of Lima, and Delphos, proving the going to be so afflicted. It will probably be the last season and undoubted there will be a large crowd present.

Ohio State Stock Takes Upward Trend Again Iowa In Today's

COLUMBUS — (United Press) — Ohio State football stock was slightly higher on the Buckeye opinion due largely to improvements thruout the in an innate sort of optimism.

A better brand of fight and teamwork than the exhibited thus far this season, however, will be necessary the Bucks victory over the husky Iowans in Ohio afternoon.

Judy, the only experienced quarterback in the gation will pilot his team this afternoon and Ollie Ki used for a play or two. Both stars have been on the sidelines with injuries. Judy will start the game and whether Klee gets in will depend on what the physicians say about his bad shoulder and Ohio's urgent need for a drop kick. Altho Coach Jones admit, he never knows until the last minute what sort of attack he will order, it is anticipated that he rangy Hawk-eyes will get started early with their usual line plunging tackle running style of football.

Against this, Coach Wilce's men are prepared to launch their usual air attack. The style didn't function effectively against Michigan last week and it may not function against Iowa. But its about all the Bucks have and they are determined to do their best with it.

More than usual uncertainty attaches to the contest because neither team has a wealth of veterans. Leland Parkin was not in uniform when the Hawkeyes took the field for practice yesterday and he probably will not play. He is suffering from three cracked ribs.

Iowa's tackles and ends are men of experience. The guards are green but powerful.

Both teams got a bad start toward titular honors when they lost to Michigan and Illinois last week and early season enthusiasm was lacking as the four approached today's contest.

The line-up:
Iowa: Otto, I. e.; Hancock, I. t.; Fleckenstein, I. g.; Griffin, c.; Olson, r. e.; Kriz, r. t.; Romey, r. e.; Fry, c.; Fisher, I. h.; Miller, r. h.; Dauber, I. b.

Ohio: Seiffer, I. e.; Oberlin, I. t.; Steel, I. g.; Young, c.; Schulist, r. e.; Petroff, r. t.; Gorrell, r. e.; Judy, c.; Workman, I. h.; Snyder, r. h.; Devoe, I. b.

Referee, Magidsohn, Michigan. Umpire Knight, Dartmouth. Field Judge McDonald, Brown. Head Linesman Gardner, Cornell.

ADA, Ohio — (Special to The Lima News) — Baldwin-Wallace's powerful eleven will invade Ada this afternoon with the grim determination to put a crimp in Ohio Northern's hopes for the championship of the Ohio Conference. On paper, the two teams appear evenly matched and a great game is forecast.

Early in the season Northern sent Ashland College back home with a 13-12 trimming. Last Saturday Baldwin-Wallace held Ashland to a scoreless tie. From this dope it looks as tho Northern is just a little better than the Berea outfit.

Baldwin-Wallace uses trick plays extensively. Their aerial attack is down to perfection. In the Ashland encounter Baldwin-Wallace completed five out of six attempted passes, each of which resulted in a big gain. Their formation are deceptive and it is only with the greatest difficulty that they can be fathomed.

The visiting team will come with its strongest lineup Northern, on

JACK DAW'S ADVENTURES—IN THE OLDEN CASTLE

CHAPTER 23

Story by Hal Cochran

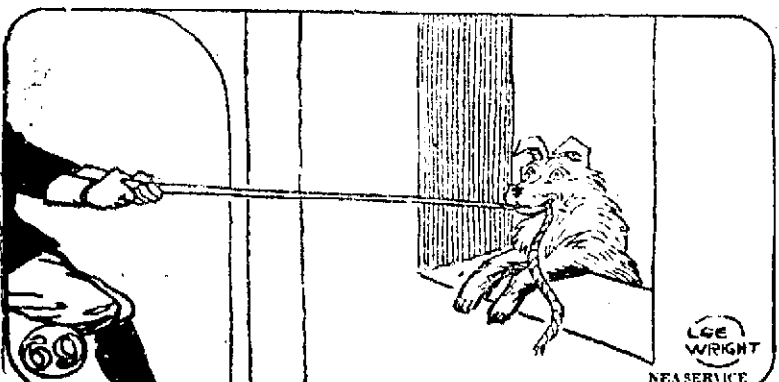

Drawings by Lee Wright

"Well, how am I going to get him again?" asked Jack. "Better go to that big window and see if you can see him," replied Jingo. Jack leaned out the window and, sure enough, Flip was standing in the yard just below. "Get me a rope," replied Jack, "and I'll pull him up."

Jingo brought the rope in shortly and Jack let one end of it down into the yard. "Grab hold," he shouted to Flip, and the dog took the rope in his mouth. Then Jack and Jingo backed away from the window and slowly, but surely, pulled the dog up into the room. (Continued).
